CHANGE YOUR LIFE FOREVER

LASER VISION CORRECTION

Laser vision correction can reduce your dependence on corrective lenses.

It will also change your life!

If you or someone you know is thinking about laser treatment to permanently reduce dependence on corrective lenses—I invite you to see me first.

The reason is simple. Excellent visual results are highly dependent on the skill of the surgeon. And I'd like to help you select from the best.

As an optometric physician, I regularly provide before and after-surgery care for people who undergo laser vision correction. Being involved during the healing process has given me the unique opportunity to evaluate the outcomes of surgery. Over time, I have been able to see first-hand the good and not-so-good outcomes of numerous surgeons.

If you are thinking about changing your life with LASIK, I can help you decide if you are a good candidate—then guide you to surgeons who consistently obtain excellent results and are appropriate for your type of correction.

Laser vision correction is a major event in your life. Call our office so I can be a source of guidance for you.
